A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.
THE ADVERTISEMENT OF THE CARSON
SOAP WORKS which appears in to day's Star Journal was composed and written by me before ever the manager or workman of the Carson Soap Works knew what a piece of soap was. I am surprised at L. B. Greenlaw appropriating an advertisement written by a person not having charge of the educational interests of a certain portion of our State. Were I connected with institutions of learning I would not appropriate the simple composition of a hard bodied son of toll, or devoting to advance my own interests.

J. S. GILSON,
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, RENO.
Township, No. 8 Office—East side Virginia street, opposite Union Block.
RENO, NEVADA.

Hon. Thomas Fitch has been chosen as Orator of the Day in the coming celebration of the Fourth of July in Stockton.

The Carson Mint will be closed for repairs and the annual settlement of accounts from Monday, the 12th day of June, until Saturday, the 1st day of July next.

A Battle Mountain man will attempt to ride from Austin to Philadelphia in forty days, without changing horses.

The excitement over the Presidential contest is increasing. The reported alliance between Bristow and Morton is denied by both. Bristow's friends assert that he will get a large part of Morton's strength when the latter withdraws from the contest. Blaine's friends are confident of his nomination.

The extension of the new water system for the protection of Virginia City against fire to the outlying portions of the town is now almost assured. Signatures to the identity bond pledging to signers to pay the contractors in the event of the Legislature refusing to legalize the action of the Alderman in ordering the work, are being obtained in large numbers.

A Times Cincinnati dispatch says: "Some of the Nevada delegates have arrived, but their leader, Jones, has not yet appeared. When he does, the Nevada delegation, which is now lying around loose, will rendezvous at the luxurious house he has engaged on Vine street. Jones is for Conkling, and the natural consequence is that Nevada is for Conkling."

There is nothing new in the Comstock mining situation, except that the Imperial development continues to improve. The bonanza mines are yielding as usual and are paying dividends amounting to $2,160,000 per month. All is going on about as usual with the prospecting mines.

The Republican National Convention, which meets in Cincinnati next Wednesday, and to which the delegates are now en route from all over the nation, is to be held in Exposition Hall, an immense structure, with 6,000 seats, and standing room on the floor and in the galleries of 3,000 more. This Hall is already historic, politically, being the same in which Horace Greeley was nominated in 1872, not to mention the slaughter of some Ohio Presidential candidates which occurred in it on the 17th of last month.

SCORE ONE FOR THE C. F. R. R.

It is not often that we are called upon to say a good word for the Central Pacific railroad, but, when that corporation gives us a chance, it is a pleasure to praise them, says the Enterprise, in which we heartily concur. Their act of passing Mexican War Veterans over their road, both ways, free of charge, is a generous, high minded and graceful courtesy on the part of the owners of the road, and we thank them for it with much more pleasure than we ever felt in upbraiding them. The "old boys" will never want many more favors in this world, but this concession from the railroad company may be the means of permitting some of them to look upon the places where their childhood was passed—may renew the memories of youth before the twilight of their lives deepens into night. We never felt so much like being reconciled to an advance in rates on the Central Pacific as now, while contemplating this gracious act toward the Veterans.

CAUSE FOR REGRET.

It is a matter of regret that so many old, and even young men miss their proper vocation in this mundane sphere, though they know it not. It is only after a long lapse of time they discover the mistake, realize their error, and endeavor to retrieve fallen fortune and failing health in the pursuit of some light task alike more congenial to their nature and suitable to their age and ability. Instances are on record where the inexperienced youth passing from the threshold of his Alma Mater, enters upon the battle of life, his bright and polished armor glittering in the sunshine; buoyed up with ambitious dreams of the noble mission he is allotted to carry out as a teacher of the people, yet only himself just escaping from the words of wisdom falling from the lips of age and experience, and which he heeded, only to remember when the best portion of his life's labor was over, and the knowledge which had been acquired bringing forth no fruit fit to be plucked. In remorse and despair he learns that the air of pride with which he had been swollen in youth was but a bubble, and he wonders it had not exploded long before; thinks that the wild and visionary dreams of a remarkable imagination were diverted from their proper channel, only that he was made to be an insignificant part and parcel of the eternal fitness of things. Awakens to the astounding fact that one by one the ideals of his youth, then almost within his grasp, had slipped so easily away as not to be readily perceived, concealing beneath their fold all the blessings and pleasures which would have been his but for the mistake of early youth, brought about by the swelling of the brain, which found temporary relief in furnishing mental pabulum for a limited circle of immediate friends and kindred spirits. So it is all through life, and more the sorrow. The hewer of wood and drawer of water becomes a tooth-carpeniter; he who was intended as a brakeman on a railroad becomes a disciple of Esculapius; the mason studies Blackstone and Coke; the village pedagogue aspires to a seat in the Legislative halls; the blacksmith believes himself a mechanical genius, and the youth just from college is impressed and carried away with the idea that he was conceived and brought forth for no other purpose than to run a country newspaper, and attempt with his college-bred airs and learning to pass off upon an unsuspecting public stale jokes and witticisms culled from other's books before the birth of Christ. What a pity the Divine Creator had not mapped out for each his own work, not leaving circumstances to control the actions of many. We often think it would have been better for ourselves had we lived and thrived with the peanut business, or earned a comfortable sustenance by delving in the bowels of the earth.

SPEECH NUMBER TWO.

Senator Booth has made another speech in the U. S. Senate. Last time it was in opposition to the Hawaiian treaty bill, and now it is in opposition to the bill to amend the laws relating to the legal tender of silver coin. The telegraph reports that he took the floor and made a speech on the bill and on the general question of the exchange of silver for fractional currency. As Booth is from the Pacific Coast we copy the synopsis of his speech:

He referred to the provisions of the bill, and said if the bill should be passed the value of silver would be somewhat enhanced by the new use created for it; but just how much no one could tell. He opposed the bill, and argued that it might be in operation for a period, but it would only be temporary. If it should be passed, and the Resumption Act of 1873 not be repealed, the effect would be that all bills of twenty dollars and less would be redeemed in silver, and the larger ones in gold. He had no doubt that greenbacks and gold could be brought to a common value, but he did not expect the inauguration of the millenium by any kind of legislative enactment. It was the true policy of the country to bring every form of money used to the same standard of value, and that should be gold standard. It could be accomplished by national notes more than by any bank notes. He believed the fauted debt of the United States should be paid in gold; that all forms of currency in use should be equivalent in value, and that the Government should use the national credit in the form of national notes, and not lead it to banks.

He urged that the interest on the fauted debt should be reduced to the lowest possible sum, and United States notes be maintained at the gold standard. This he believed could be done by the use of inconvertible bonds, the interest on which should be paid in gold. He then referred to the National Bank system, and said it was probably the best we ever had; but if one-fourth of the attention had been given to improving the national currency which had been given to banks and the maintenance of a strictly artificial and complicated system, greenbacks would have been at par with gold long ago. He then spoke at some length in favor of interconvertible bonds, and in conclusion said he had no idea that it would at once start the laggard wheels of industry, but it would inspire hope.

We are sorry to note that Mr. Booth is in favor of more "inflation." There has been too much of the same thing already. What the people want is integrity in finance, an unvariable standard in values, a constitutional currency, and which shall be worth as much to-morrow as to-day. The question of "better times" is simply a question of better finance, the resumption of specie payments, the use of real dollars for all the transactions of trade and industry. A paper substitute that goes for ninety cents to-day, eighty-eight to-morrow, and only eighty-five next week, would derange and demoralize all business to "the crack of doom."

THE CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

The Exhibition Gradually Assuming a More Finished and Complete Aspect—The Knight Templar Parade—Fine Exhibition of Rhododendra—Educational Interests—Etc.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.

EDITOR JOURNAL: One of the most popular things about the Exposition just now is a structure erected by Anthony Waterer, proprietor of Knap Hill Nursery, Woking, Surrey, England, and devoted entirely to an exhibition of rhododendra. There are varieties of the

LAUREL

Of the Alleghany Mountains, improved and developed by cultivation. The laurel was taken over to England more than a hundred years ago, mostly from the mountains in Pennsylvania, as the plants from there are more hardy than those from other localities, and have been developed by the scientific cultivation under which they have been ever since. Into sixty-three varieties, differing very much in shape, smell and color, the blossoms being white, lavender, purple, crimson, red, and all the different shades and tints of these colors. The blossoms have also much increased in size of cultivation. They are all in full bloom just now, and by a judicious arrangement the colors are made to blend so as to make a pretty sight. Mr. Waterer has a nursery of 150 acres in England, and raises large number of plants. About all that he has here, and they are many hundreds, are already sold. The prices average about three shillings per plant. Rather significant (is it not?) that England should be bringing back our laurels to us now after a hundred years, and harmonizing well with her attitude toward the Centennial Exhibition. Jas. Veitch and Son, of London, also have a collection of rhododendra, in front of Horticultural Hall, but it is small and nothing like Waterer's.

The Pennsylvania

EDUCATIONAL HALL.

Is situated back of the Main Building; and has a general exposition of the educational interests of the Keystone State. A number of the colleges of the State have displays showing the educational work they accomplish and also the achievements of some of their professors and alumni. The common school system, the great safeguard of our country, is well represented, as are also the schools which Pennsylvania provide for the orphans of her soldiers. The Sunday Schools also have an exhibition. The teachers' association of Philadelphia has a well furnished reception room on one side, where visitors register their names, residences and occupations. Of course school furniture, school book, and patent slate and blackboard men had to seize the opportunity to advertise their wares, and have them piled up here, occupying a good deal of space.

The Singer Manufacturing Company have just beside the annex to Memorial Hall a very nice building. One large room is used for displaying their

SEWING MACHINES

And the work of them. They have a very large number of machines operated by young ladies, and some very fine specimens of machine sewing, and several wax figures on which are silk and satin dresses made by the "Singer." Adjoining this is a reception room elegantly furnished, where visitors may rest themselves, and by putting their names on the register kept there receive a chance for the two-millionth machine manufacturer by the Singer Company.

THE VIENNA BAKERY

Is a great institution. Bread and cakes are there made in a large room with windows all around the sides for persons to look through and see all the processes. Bread and cakes are being baked all the time, so that they may always be had fresh. The proprietors claim that by the use of their yeast they entirely avoid all possibility of having sour bread. Attached to the bakery is a cafe.

THE EMPIRE TRANSPORTATION CO.

Has a building containing one of the nicest private displays there is. It consists of a large number of working model designed to illustrate the American fast freight system, and various other things pertaining to their business. They have small trains of cars in actual operation, models of grain elevators, etc., and representations of methods of loading cars, a large map showing their railroad connections, etc. Outside they have a freight train, the cars two or three feet high, and they look so natural that it is hard to persuade oneself that it is not an ordinary train looking small on account of being seen at some distance off.

The exhibition is gradually assuming a more finished and complete aspect, and things are getting into more perfect order every day. Rubbish is by no means so plentiful as it was a week or so ago. There are however still some things that are very much behind. In the Main Building several nations are conspicuously so. Turkey and Russia have had almost nothing but unopened boxes until within the last day or so, and it will be some time before they are anything near ready. The grounds are beginning to look much better than they did a short time ago. They are mostly covered with verdure and there will soon be no bare places left. The two valleys on the eastern side of the grounds are beautiful places, and are delightful retreats to those who have become wearied with the endless round of sight-seeing.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

To-day drew away crowds from the Exposition. The central part of the city was jammed with people and in some places the services of the police were very necessary to keep the way clear. The parade was a grand and imposing affair; but the telegraph will have described it, before this letter reaches the JOURNAL, and so we need not do so. FRAZER.

THE PACIFIC TOURIST.—We are under eternal obligations to A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, and to Henry T. Williams, editor, for a copy of the above named trans-continental guide of scenery and pleasure travel across the continent—the handsomest guide book we have ever seen. This most wonderful book is the result of nine months' constant work and travel of forty artists, engravers and correspondents, at a total expense of $20,000, over the entire country from the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean. It describes every pleasure resort, famous springs, mountain, lake, etc. It gives distances, rates of fare, and all routes and conveniences of travel to California, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, the Big Bonanza mines, the wonders of the Yosemite, the cañons of the Colorado River, the Big Trees, Geysers, and the health resorts of the Pacific Coast. It is invaluable to every lover of fine scenery, to every one fond of pleasure travel, to every business man and emigrant. The price is only $1 50.

For the best pictures, go to Kemp's Flying Gallery.

The Buildings Finished, in Course of Construction, and Contemplated.

Donald McKay's new brick residence, corner of Fourth and Lake streets, is rapidly approaching completion. The brick work is all finished, and the carpenters are hurrying up with their part. McKay's house will be a valuable addition to that section of town.

Ground has been broken for the foundation wall of Mr. L. W. Lee's stone building, which will be located on the corner of Fourth and Sierra streets. It will be quite a large structure—85x60—and will be used for a horse restaurant. The building will be up inside of sixty days.

A Mr. Gamble has just built himself a little house, corner of West and Fourth.

Frank Chase has a tenement house in course of construction on his lot in the Western Addition. It is his intention to build two others contiguous for similar purposes.

The large and showy two-story frame now looming up in the Western Addition is being built by Mr. A. B. Williams. He will have a nice home, having taken the precaution to lay out in early Spring a lot of trees and shrubbery, which are now growing splendidly. His house will be ready for occupancy in about sixty days.

W. F. Drannan has just completed his house in the Western Addition.

The finishing touches are being put on Mr. J. C. Brown's residence on Chestnut street. He can congratulate himself on being the possessor of one of the prettiest places in Reno.

The two new and stylish houses of W. T. Frank, on third street, are being pushed forward, and will soon be ready to move into. They add much to the appearance of that favored locality.

The elegant residence of H. H. Beck, in Lake's Addition, will soon be completed, and when finished have a tendency to enhance property in its neighborhood. The Mansard roof distinguishes it from the other fine residences in that vicinity.

The new two-story fire-proof brick JOURNAL building will be finished during the month. It will be a credit to the town and particularly Second street.

The brick-layers commenced on Burke's addition, and will lose no time in pushing it to completion.

Work will probably be commenced during the coming week on the structure which will outshine all others in the town—the new Odd Fellows Hall.

Many other buildings are in course of erection, and contemplated, and the end is not yet. Reno is still growing, and will continue to enlarge, until she will be the metropolis of the State, outside of Virginia.

A Hero.—Jim Wright, with his engine 149, arrived in Wadsworth yesterday morning, returning from the lightening train trip. The railroad boys had no medals to give him, but they gave him three hearty cheers in recognition of his heroic deeds, for he is entitled to as much credit as Hank Small, though Hank received nearly all of that, besides $1,000 from the manufacturers of the locomotive and a gold medal from Jarrett & Palmer. Yet Jim Wright did a large share of the work.

CON. POR.—There is much good news from this mine. The ore bodies on the 100 and 165-foot levels are growing better and better. In fact the mine never looked better. The mill and furnace started up Thursday, and everything was working finely up to last evening, and we may expect a bullion shipment to-morrow. The Peavine boys are all in high glee over the prospects, and sure they will come out all right yet.

DAILY STAGE LINE.—Opposition, they say, is the life of trade. That old stage, J. D. Pollard, will commence running a line to the new Pyramid diggings to-day, carrying passengers and freight. His stages will leave here on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. Hymers & Evans' run on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. This arrangement makes it almost equivalent to a daily line between Reno and Pyramid City.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Nevada Quicksilver Co. is called for the 19th inst., at D. A. Bender & Co.'s bank.

WESTERN DISPATCHES.

Investigations—To Be Arrested—Dressing—Law Suit.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.

The investigation fever is spreading. The latest affairs of the kind are on the Newark and Phil. Sheridan. Dissatisfied stockholders in both these mines have organized sufficiently to get a fair start, in regard to numbers and stock.

Warrants were issued yesterday for the arrest of Leland Stanford and E. H. Miller, on complaint of J. R. Robinson, a stockholder of the Central Pacific Railroad, on the ground that they refused to exhibit to him certain papers which were demanded at the examination of Miller (now in progress) at the office of the company. The papers in question are understood to show the manner in which certain sums had been used here and in the East in forwarding the designs of the directors of the Company. Bail was fixed in each case at $2,000.

The Pacific Mail steamer City of Peking arrived this morning from Hong Kong. She brings only about one hundred Chinamen. Four or five hundred intended taking passage on her, but on receipt of instructions from their countrymen here they all returned ashore except those above stated.

Alexander Forbes intends to bring a suit against the Con. Virginia Co. and the Assessor of Storey county, in the U. S. Circuit Court. The suit will be for the object of testing the constitutionality of the bullion tax, and complainant will ask for an injunction restraining the Con. Virginia from paying and the Assessor from collecting the tax.

The National Gold Bank and Trust Company will start in business again, on Monday next, with $7,000,000 capital.

Carson Picnic—Accident.

CARSON, June 10.

A man named James Gray, a moulder in the Gold Hill Foundry, was thrown from the picnic train about two miles from Carson and severely injured. The train had stopped to pass another train. Gray was standing on the rear end of a car, and when the train started up it jerked him off. His head struck the wheel. His right temple was cut, the base of his skull fractured and his wrist broken.

The picnic is a grand success. Over two thousand people are on the grounds. The weather is delightful, which makes the visitors appreciate the beautiful shade trees on the grounds.

Sam Hollis was pardoned out of the State Prison to-day.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Duel—Tunnel.

NEW YORK, June 10.

A St. Louis special says that a dispatch from Denver gives an account of a duel between a New York banker and M. J. Davis. Both are large cattle dealers. The duel was fought on the prairie at fifty paces. Davis had a Winchester rifle and Jessup (the banker) had a revolver. Jessup was shot dead, through the head, at the second fire. Davis escaped.

The Hudson River Tunnel Company, which have been delayed for more than a year by an injunction, has again resumed operations at the shaft in Jersey City. The roadway under the river will be 5,400 feet long and twenty-five wide. The outlet is to be at Washington Square, New York. The estimated cost is $15,000,000, and upwards of $10,000,000 in stock has already been subscribed, the principal parties to the enterprise being Californians. It is intended to complete the work in two years.

Sale.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 10.

The Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroads were sold to-day for $2,500,000, the purchasers being a committee of the bondholders of the road.

No arrangement has yet been made by any of the Fourth of July Committee for the preparation of an historical sketch of the county to be read at the celebration. This ought not to be overlooked, and though the time is brief for the preparation of such a document, it is better that ever so brief a sketch should be ready, than that we should have none at all.

VERY GOOD.—The entertainment last night was so good that it is hard to particularize. Both Mrs. Larowe and Miss Livingston possess talents of ability. We are sorry the house was not full—it had half a house—for either of the recitations was worth the price of admission. The frequent bursts of applause showed the appreciation of the audience.

DEPUTY CLERK.—During the absence of J. S. Shoemaker, J. S. Bowker will perform the official duties of that gentleman, having been deputized as Deputy County Clerk. Mr. Shoemaker left for the Centennial last night, and will be absent six weeks.

GOES ON.—The good work of cleaning the streets still continues with unabated vigor. Road Supervisor Haslund is apparently the right man in the right place. And we cheerfully accord him proper credit for the noble work he is performing.

FOURTH OF JULY.—The preparations for the celebration of the Fourth of July in Reno, are steadily progressing. The committee are not prepared to make a report of programme, etc., yet but expect to be by next week, when we shall publish it for the benefit of all interested.

OUT IN FORCE.—The pleasant weather of the past two days has enabled the fair ones to do an immense amount of shopping. Hence have they been out in force.

SEVEN.—The hospital shelters seven persons. Dr. Hogan gives them every attention.

FARE.—The fare to Pyramid City is $3 50. The same price is charged for the return trip to Reno.

FOR RENT.—After June 15th, a large shop will be for rent. For particulars inquire of 10-36 L. WINTERMANTLE.

FOR SALE.—A span of draft mares. One six and the other eight years of age, and sound in all respects. Weigh 1,500. Inquire of John Hoy.*

HELLO! Mary, where are you going? Why Alice, I am going where everybody goes, to the Great Flying Gallery to have my pictures taken. Wait one minute, until I take down my crimps, and don my pull-back, and I will go with you.

PIONEER BARBER SHOP.—Messrs. Enkle & Morris are still at the old stand. Three first-class artists can always be found on hand, who are second to none on the Pacific coast. There is nothing so luxurious on a warm Summer day, than to sit under the manipulations of one of these artists. If you are troubled with dandruff, have a headache, or a fit of blues, an application of our justly celebrated "Tonic Magniff" will remove the same as if by magic. Ladies and children wishing anything in the line of hair cutting and shampooing can be waited upon at their residence by Prof. Morris, who is no novice in the business. Hair restoratives, hair oils, bay rum and everything appertaining to the business always on hand. Give us a trial.
